April 6 - PowerPoint on Frankenstein

April 7 - Frankenstein. Read the first four letters.

NOTE: As you'll learn, there are some differences between the 1818 first edition version of Frankenstein and the 1831 version, which is why the chapter numbering may be off. I have tried to give you guidelines to help you identify what you have to read.

In the original, the novel begins with four letters from a sea Captain named Robert Walton. In most editions these are called letters, but in some cheaper editions they may be chapters 1-4.

April 9 - Chapters 1-4

April 10 - Chapters 5-6 (Chapter 5 starts " It was on a dreary night of November....")

April 13 - Chapters 7-9. (In some editions, chapter 9 is chapter 2 of Volume II). It starts "I spent the following day roaming the valley.")

April 14 - Chapter 10-13. (13: "I now hasten to the more moving part....")

April 16 - Chapter 14-16. (16: "Cursed, cursed Creator....")

April 17 Chapter 17-18. ("Day after day,....")

April 20 - Chapter 19-21 (21: "I was soon introduced...")

April 21 - Chapters 22-24
